Katherine Peck has been with the Surprise Community and Economic Development Department since February 2009. In 2005 she moved to Phoenix from Austin, Texas where she worked for the State of Texas as a caseworker for Texas Health Steps the Medicaid program for children. Before moving to Surprise she worked for the Maricopa County Workforce Development Program.

Growing up in the Washington, D.C. metro area of Virginia she developed an early interest and passion for politics which continues to this day. She attended Longwood College and the University of Virginia where she studied History and Education. She lived in Colorado for 17 years before moving back to Virginia Beach, Virginia and Austin, Texas. She has four children and seven grandchildren.
